COMPLETE ABANDONMENT OF DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE?

Out Of The Gloaming.

Sir Cowasji Jehangir told his fellow-Liberals that a certain group of delegates had "hung together in their claims" in all the R.T.C.'s. Shabash! Let them hang! Hoare is going to let them flop presently.

* * * *

Sir Cowasji cheerfully expected that there would be no improvement in the W.P., since the Cabinet had reached its limit of concessions. The Moderates too have reached the limit of their patience, and are preparing themselves to accept the Government's invitation to a few lucrative posts.

* * * *

Moderates, he said, believed in the civilised method of using their tongue and pen, and not lathi and stone, for achieving their goal. These are old fashioned methods. Sir Cowasji is more advanced. He uses poison gas.

* * * *

Since Congressmen have been used for experimenting with lathi, Sir Cowasji ought not to twit Government with it, but perhaps the urge to use his tongue was irresistible, and once it is allowed to get the better of his caution there's no knowing what the knight will say or do.

* * * *

The gallant knight concluded by saying that there is a silver lining to the darkest cloud. Sure! Unless there is a silver lining to anything our Bombay Moderates wont touch it with a pair of tongs, let alone tongues.

* * * *

There were "stormy scenes" at Scindia Steam Navigation Co's meeting. It is only natural that in such uncertain financial weather the steamer company should encounter storm and the directors get tossed hither and thither.

The reappointment of two directors was objected to by the meeting, but a length discussion convinced everybody that, interlacing of all financial interests is the best antidote for financial troubles and the shareholders at once agreed

* * * *

The Chairman thus successfully rode the storm and reached port safely, though rather overdue. Dalal Street sententiously observes that Indian shippers don't want even "artificial stimulants." Not even after a storm and at a late hour we suppose.

* * * *

A new Currency League has been started with Mr. Mathuradas Vassanji as chairman. Let's hope in the interests of Dalal Street, it will live longer than the last League. It's an ill wind which blows nobody any good.

* * * *

"Should India cut down her population?" asks "F.P.J." This homicidal mania must be "cut down" otherwise we don't know to what lengths it may be carried.

* * * *

Hitler who has now become an ardent equalitarian desires to erase all conceptions of victor and vanquished and wants to replace them by "bearable application of equal rights for all,"—except of course Jews and other non-Aryans.

* * * *

He feels that Germany has been humiliated and now wants real, moral and actual equality. But the question is whether other nations would quite like to be on the same moral equality with the Nazis. There's the rub.

* * * *

The "Daily Telegraph" fears that one thing which would interfere with trade prosperity would be the absence of good-will, due to political discontent. The Lord Willingdon and Sir John have no such fears,—all they want is a contented Police and I.C.S.

* * * *

The Mahasabha while sympathising with tenants, deprecates the extinction of capitalists and landlords. Where would all our movements be, without capitalists? They are as necessary for the Congress as for the Mahasabha—safety first and equal rights for all.

* * * *

"How long are you in prison for, my man?"

"Two months."

"What is the charge?"

"No charge—everything's free."

STRONG FEELING IN GENEVA

New Problem Created Needing Re-Examination

U. S. STANDING FIRMLY WITH FORMER ALLIES

GENEVA, October 15.

The feeling is growing stronger in favour of complete abandonment of the Disarmament Conference. The American delegation, especially, are inclined to this view, because they feel that as a result of the German action the problem has become more European.

Representatives of Great Powers with Dr. Benes, Rapporteur, and M. Politis, Vice-President of the Conference, met this morning, and will meet again in the afternoon to discuss the situation and draft a reply to Baron Von Neurath's telegram giving reasons for the withdrawal. The telegram has hitherto o only been acknowledged by Mr. Henderson.

ITALY'S VIEWPOINT.

Rome—A general adjournment of the Conference is essential, in the opinion of Government, according to an official statement, which adds that an entirely new problem has been created making a complete re-examination by the Powers essential.

BRITAIN UNPERTURBED?

London.—Mr. MacDonald, who is week-ending at Chequers, is kept fully acquainted with the situation. He will return to Downing Street in the evening as usual. No formal conversations among the members of the Cabinet are likely before to-morrow. The official British attitude continues to be one of calm deliberation.

A calmer mood of contemplation succeeds the stunning blow dealt by Germany's decision. The Former allied and associated Powers stand shoulder to shoulder. The news from very reliable circles in Berlin indicates that the German Cabinet is dismayed by the solidarity of the English-speaking peoples.

U. S. TO STAND BY ALLIES.

Washington advices declare that the United States is standing firmly with her former allies. This policy was conveyed, yesterday, to a private sitting of the Disarmament Conference by Mr. Norman Davis.

The German press unanimously hails Herr Hitler's pronouncement as a historical masterpiece. declaring that only Herr Hitler stands between them and chaos and that, therefore, everyone must support him.

"HUMILIATING GREAT NATION."

It is noteworthy that no newspaper refers to the subject of Germany re-arming. The Government organ, "Volkischer Beobachter" says none of the millions of honest workers would benefit if the politicians thirsting for power were to humiliate the great German nation. The paper adds that national honour will not permit the new Germany to be treated like dirt.

FRENCH PRESS COMMENTS

Excitement prevails in France, where the news of Germany's withdrawal is published in huge headlines, such for example as "Germany takes off the mask." Newspapers unanimously condemn Germany's action, and consider that the Hitler Government shoulders immense responsibility.

The "Matin" appeals to France to remain calm, and await reactions of America. Italy and Britain, and expresses the opinion that the situation, though serious, is not necessarily fatal.

The "Petit Parisien" says that Geneva and the whole world will interpret the action as meaning that Germany wants a free hand to re-arm. Other newspapers abandon the hope of salvation from Geneva and Locarno, observing that the Treaty of Versailles is still in force with the provision of Sanctions

BRILLIANT STROKE OF INTERNAL POLICY.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.

Whatever discussions preceded the Government's decision to withdraw from the League, it is generally believed that it was taken on Herr Hitler's own initiative. It is regarded as a brilliant stroke of internal policy to take a referendum on the foreign political issue.

Although elections on 12th November will be held on a demand for a vote of confidence on both internal and foreign policies, there is no doubt that the second issue overshadows all the others, and will receive united support.

One of the most significant feature will be the disappearance, temporarily if not permanently, of all State parliaments, which is believed to be the first step towards the formal abolition of the federal system and centralisation of administration of the Reich in the Reich Government under Herr Hitler.

"LEAGUE'S INCOMPETENCE."

Tokio.—General Arak, Japanese Minister of War, declares that the German decision is understandable and is a further proof of the League's incompetence. He adds that Japan's fixed policy towards the League and the Disarmament Conference will be unaffected. The Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs expresses the opinion that the Disarmament Conference will not collapse, though its difficulties will inevitably increase.—Reuter's Special.

Control Of Foreign Trade And Standardisation Of Manufactured Goods Urged.

TOKIO, October 15.

A surprise at finding,d during his recent visit to Europe and America, that it was Japan's trade and not her actions in Manchuria that was worrying the world, was expressed by Viscount Ishii addressing the Japanese Economic League.

Viscount Ishii laid stress on the necessity of Japan controlling her foreign trade and standardising her manufactured goods.—Reuter's Special.

EXPULSION FOR THREE LAWYERS

BERLIN, October 14.

Three out of the four foreign lawyers, namely, Willard, Detcheff and Gregoroff, have, after police examination, been expelled from the country, but Gallacher has been excepted because Torglor's counsel has specifically invited him to attend the trial.—Reuter's Special.

MAHA SABHA SENSATION

President Disallows Swaraj Resolution

AJMER, October 15.

The Subjects Committee of the Mahasabha met again in camera in the president's camp to-day. It is understood that in addition to transacting other business the committee heard representatives of various Hindu and Muslim States like Kashmir, Kapurthala, Bhopal, Bahawalpur and Rampur.

Both supporters and opponents of the administration of these States spoke. The discussion that ensued resulted in the adoption of a number of resolutions.

A delegate from the United Provinces, Ramkumar, sprang a surprise when he moved a resolution declaring that independence was the Mahasabha's goal. The President disallowed it, as the sense of the house was against it.—A.P.

LONDON LETTER

BRITISH LABOUR CONFERENCE WASH OUT

Concern For Parliamentary Seats Dominates Consideration Of Future Programme

LONDON, Oct. 7.
(By Air Mail).

This week has been important in so far as large political conferences had been held in England. However, their importance was nominal and formal. The two large political organisations in Great Britain, the Labour Party and the Tory Party, which have been holding their annual "tamashas" are playing with sham programmes, with words and slogans, and naturally therefore their Conferences in Hastings and Birmingham respectively not only create no sensation but even lack intelligence and interest.

The first is the Labour Conference. The Independent Labour Party left wing has officially departed from the Labour Party with a condemnation of entire Labour Policy. It was to be expected that a great national labour party might not take such condemnation lying down quietly and that would frame a programme for socialism and that the colonial policy of the Labour Government would be equal to that of the I.L.P. socialists in their idealism.

The Labour Party Conference has done nothing of the kind and has produced no such programme or policy. They have barefacedly acted as a fundamental State Party. The right wing of the I.L.P. that parted company from the left wing of the I.L.P. and undertook to ginger up the Labour Party from within made plenty of noise prior to the Hastings Show. Their big gun was Sir Stafford Cripps, a personal favourite of Ramsay MacDonald, Arthur Henderson and George Lansbury, through his father the veteran Lord Parmoor.

BOGUS SOCIALISM

It was expected that this socialist group would force the hands of the Labour Party at least to the extent of confronting it with some immediate threat to capitalism. They have done nothing of the kind. All the leading members of the group have kept their eyes on their chances of Parliamentary seats and have surrendered to the officials of the Party a full hundred per cent because they know very well that without the official endorsement of the Party their seats would be in grave danger.

The question of real socialism in this bogus socialist concern has been put off from further consideration for fully twelve months. What is most humorous and tragic is the fact that this so-called Labour Party is now in the forty-sixth year of its existence, and after pretending a good deal to be an anti-capitalist party made the humiliating confession that during the last forty-five years it had not yet discovered how to fight capitalism. It is going to begin to think about it during the next twelve months.

In the meanwhile, the officials of the Party have the sole ambition of acquiring a big parliamentary position at the next election and to run the British Empire

Lightning Raid On Gambling Den

Police Arrest Motley Crowd Of Hindus, Muslims & Parsis, Including Priest With Rs. 1,000 Cash

One of the most notorious gambling dens in the Bombay City run by a bookie, whose name was a household word in every punter's home, was successfully raided by the Princess Street Police, on Sunday night when 22 persons including a Parsi Priest were arrested and Rs. 1,000 in cash was seized.

Behind the raid lies a story of patient manoeuvering and watching for well over an year, by the Princess Street Police Officers, who, though they had ample evidence that the den run under the guise of the "Bombay City Club" was the resort of all classes of people bent on having a turn at the wheel of fortune, on cards, dice, counters or roulettes, were unable to nab the gamers at the game, as every previous attempt had been foiled by the clever and magnanimous tips so readily given to informants and others to keep the premises safe from intrusion by unwelcome visitors.

RAIDING PARTY.

The raiding party was made up of Inspector Raje disguised in Jodhpur breeches, a red fez and a silk coat, looked every inch a Muslim who was out to have a good time, and easily disarmed the suspicions of the cordon of informants.

Sub-Inspector Mungekar who was armed with the warrant wore the disguise of a care-free Parsi on pleasure bent while the other officers Sub-Inspectors Desai and Vani, Sergeants Greig Green, and Saunders needed no disguise as they were the "friends" of the owner of the den.

"FRIENDS" WELCOMED

By previous arrangement two officers entered the premises situated on the third floor of Nur Mansions at Agiary Cross Lane in Dhunji Street, at 7 p.m., and were welcomed by Balaram Anantram Powar, the proprietor of the Bombay City Club. Once in, these officers made themselves quite at home with the others numbering about 22 in the room.

They kept a watchful eye on the manager, Mr. Rustomji Toddywalla, who was in charge of cash-box. The officers had with them Rs. 100 in market notes, which the manager is alleged to have readily exchanged for counters of various denominations to help them to have a try at any game they chose

GATE-KEEPER'S RUDE AWAKENING.

Meanwhile another officer, a "friend" of the gate-keeper, a stalwart Muslim who had his own "way" of dealing with intruders, and was in charge of a metal expanding gate on the second floor, was received

STABBING OUTRAGE IN SANKLI STREET

Alleged Brutal Assault On Resident By Muslim Card-Player

As a result of his protest against four Muslims for playing cards on the footpath in front of his house at 2 a.m. and disturbing residents of the buildings round about, resulted in one Mohemad Maddu, being stabbed by one of the four Muslims, all of whom ran away after the incident. Maddu was removed to J. J. Hospital, where he is lying in a precarious condition. The assialant is still absconding.
It appears that at about 2-30 a.m. on Sunday, Jambu, a man apparently well known in the locality and three other Muslims sat on the foot path on 3rd Sankli Street and began playing cards with money. As they were shouting during the play, one Mohemad Maddu, who was living in a house opposite, asked them to stop shouting and not disturb people from their sleep. The Muslims, who were engrossed in their game, turned a deaf ear to his request. Maddu came down and asked them to stop their play and not to create a disturbance.

At this it appears, Jambu whipped out a knife and stabbed Maddu in the abdomen and ran. The three other muslims also escaped. A Police Constable, who heard cries ran to the place and informed the Agripada Police Station about the assault.
Inspector Bhatkal and Sergeant Ross hurried to the place and removed the Muslim to the J. J. Hospital, where his dying declaration was recorded by Mr. Dimtimker, Honorary Magistrate. The condition of Maddu is precarious.

Muslim Found Shot Dead In His Room

Police Find Unlicenced Automatic Pistol And Live Cartridges By Side Of Victim & Infer It May Be Case Of "Suicide"

A shot was heard in the early hours of Sunday morning, rudely awakening the residents of Sankli Street from their beauty sleep. But they only turned the other side of their comfortable beds thinking it was but a harmless cracker that inevitably heralds the approach of the Divali Season. There was, however, a grim tragedy behind this seemingly innocent report, as they found out later in the morning.
It appears that Abdulla Choudhry, aged about 30 was living in a room on the second floor of a Umrigar Building on 2nd Sankli Street. He was employed in the Indian Manufacturing Mills. At about 6 on Sunday morning the residents of the building heard a loud report as from a gunshot, but no notice of the sound was taken as they believed fireworks well let off as usual during the Divali. Later at about 9, one of Abdulla's friends came to visit him and finding that there was no response from inside to his repeated knocking, he peeped inside the room and noticed Abdulla lying in a pool of blood. He immediately raised an alarm and the Agripada Police were informed.
Inspector Bhatkal and Sub-Inspector Patanker hurried to the place and found that the door of the room had been bolted from inside. The two windows also were bolted from inside and there was no egress of any kind for anybody to get in. The Police forced open the door and found Abdulla lying on a cot in a pool of blood. An automatic revolver was found lying by his right side. Abdulla had a bullet wound on his chest the bullet piercing through the body and was found lying close by.
The Police searched the room and found that there was no other access to the room, except the windows and the door both of which were bolted from inside. The Revolver for which he had no license was found to contain seven live cartridges, besides the one that had already been spent. The revolver was taken charge of and the body was removed to the morgue.

IS IT SUICIDE?

Superintendent Bull also visited the scene and the police believe that it is a case of suicide.
In the course of enquiries, the police found that Abdulla, came of a Hindu family in Assam. He came to Bombay four or five years ago and was converted to Islam three years back. The police were not able to trace any relatives in Bombay, but it appears that the man has a mother and a brother living in a village in Assam.

FRANCIAL TROUBLES.

It was found by the police, that the deceased was heavily indebted to several of his friends and was in great financial difficulties. It appears that he had asked several of his creditors to meet him on Sunday afternoon as he was going away to his native place and wanted to pay them off before he left. It is also stated that he has not been attending the Mill since October 9.
Though all that was found during the enquiries lead to only one conclusion, that that it was a case of suicide due to financial difficulties, yet the Agripada police are trying to solve the mystery of a postcard that was found in the room. It was written by a woman named Sitabai to Abdulla. It enquired about Abdulla's health and informed him that Sitadevi wanted her jewels back.
It is expected that the police will be able to solve the mystery before the inquest over Abdulla's body on Monday morning.

DETENUS' RELIEF LEAGUE

Political Sufferers Bureau Appoints Sub-Committee

Sardar Jamiat Singh writes:—
It is not generally known to the public what a piece of soap a tooth brush, a tube of tooth paste or some harmless book means to the prisoner who has to spend years and years behind the prison bars. The public are equally ignorant of the sufferings which many a old parent and young wives and children have to undergo when the bread winner of the family is definitely locked up.
In order to allay the sufferings of these people, as far as possible, the Political Sufferers' Bureau has applinted a sub-committee of the following five persons to collect funds for the Andamans and Detenus' Relief League The members of the committee assisted by others will begin collections from Monday the 16th instant and it is hoped that the ever generous public of Bombay will not fail to contribute their mite.

MILL JOBBER IN TROUBLE

Alleged Cheating Of Women Operatives As Recruiting Agent

The Agripada Police under Inspector Bhatkal, have arrested two persons, one of whom was a jobber in one of the Currimbhoy Mills, on a charge of cheating more than 15 women to the extent of Rs. 400. The arrested persons will be placed before Mr. P. L. Thakker, Presidency Magistrate Mazagaon to-day.
It appears that one Sakharam, approached several working class women in the locality and promised to get employment for them in one of the Currimbhoy Mills through the influence of Bala Kongati, who was a jobber. It was alleged by the complainants that Sakharam was in league with Bala Kongati and obtained from them sums of money, promising them jobs. Finding that even after several days waiting, Sakharam did not turn up and that there was no possibility of getting any employment in any of the Currimbhoy Mills the women went and complained to the Agripada Police, who traced Sakharam and also arrested Bala Kongati.

M. C. C.'s FIRST MATCH IN INDIA

Knock Up 292 In Play With Rubie's XI, Walters (71), Barnett 62, & Valentine (59) Being Chief Scorers, Home Side Making 51 For 3

M. C. C. (1st Innings) 292
Rubie's XI (1st Innings) (for 3) 51

KARACHI, October 15.

The first match of the M. C. C. tour against C. B. Rubies XI opened here at 11 this morning in bright and sunny weather.

Attendance at the start numbered fully 4,000.

Clark, Verity, Elliott and Marriott stood down from the M. C. C. team and Mitchell was the twelfth man.

Jardine won the toss and elected to bat on a plumb wicket sending in Walters and Bakewell to open the innings against the bowling of Harris and Mohomed Ebrahim.

SENSATIONAL START.

The start was sensational, a wicket falling off the last ball of the first over. Walters scored a single off the second ball and Bakewell faced Harris. He covered up to the last ball of the over and appeared to be beaten for pace on the matting wicket and was clean-bowled at the leg stump (1/1/0).

Mohomed Ibrahim who follows the style of Ghulam in bowling and delivery sent down maidens over to Walters but Barnett took immediate toll when he came up against him placing him nicely through covers to the boundary the first of the day.

BARNETT'S CONFIDENT PLAY.

Barnett seemed to have familiarised himself with the pace of the wicket the quicker and was playing every stroke confidently In his first 16 runs he had three hits to the boundary, one of them, a firm footed straight hit against break from the left-hander.

Thirty was signalled at 11-30 and at 37 Mascarenhas, a tall right-hander who breaks both ways came on in the place of Ebrahim. Another change followed, M. Abdulla taking over from Harris to bowl left-handed leg spinners from the road-end. Walters was watching the ball very carefully and making every stroke with great deliberations but Barnett playing with greater freedom ran out to Abdulla and drove him straight over the bowlers' wicket to the screen, the ball pitching a few yards inside the boundary.

SCORING.

Batsmen's rate of scoring--50 was signalled in just under 40 minutes—and freedom with which they made their strokes appeared to show that bowling was presenting no difficulties to either player, but perfection of their back-play coupled with quick footwork and anticipation undoubtedly made bowling look much simpler than it actually was.

At noon, when an hour's play had produced 80 runs, Barnett had 44 and Walters 33 and neither batsman had made even a semblance of mistake giving hope to the bowlers to get past their defence. Indeed, hardly a ball passed the batsmen inspite of the fact that neither Ebrahim nor Harris was deviating a fraction of a foot from a length Barnett reached his 50 in exactly an hour with a perfect hook-to-leg boundary and continued to strike the ball to a harder punch than ever.

At 93, Aste made a double change himself displacing Ebrahim and bringing on Hawke in the place of Harris. A change at once came over the complexion of the game, two wickets falling for four runs. After scoring two singles through covers, Barnett ran out nearly to mid-pitch to meet Hawke's fourth ball for a half volley and hit it for a magnificent six, right on the bowling screen. The very next ball but one Barnett tried the exact stroke but was beaten by a break and gave a low catch to point where Mascarenhas made no mistake. Even if Mascarenhas had dropped the catch Barnett would have been run out. (104-2-62).

Barnett who had 6 fours and a six in his score of 62, had batted with fluent ease in the stay of an hour and ten minutes and just when he took the unnecessary risk to hit another six, he appeared to be shaping for a big score.

The latter bowler had then taken two wickets for 10 runs (108-3-2).

JARDINE CHEERED.

Jardine came in to the accompaniment of a round of cheers from the tents and at once got off the mark with a single. Fine Leg misfielding. Facing Aste, Jardine ducked to a high full pitch which the wicket keeper caught just above the wicket.

Although the rate of scoring had slightly slackened down the batsmen were playing every ball and appeared to see it very clearly off the pitch. Nearing 150 which was reached in an hour and 40 minutes, Aste tried two new bowlers Abbaskhan and Fernandes but Harris came on again at 160 and 4 runs later, claimed Walter's wicket claiming successfully for l.b.w.

At the wicket for an hour and 55 minutes, Walters had five fours among his chief hits and was throughout a model of steady batsmanship (164-4-71).

Valentine joined his captain and except for a flashing hit to the leg-boundary early in his innings, batted sedately.

POSITION AT LUNCH.

At lunch Jardine and Valentine were not-out with 28 and 11 respectively with the total at 180 for four wickets.

Bowlers slowly gained the upper hand when the game was restarted to the bowling of Harris and Ibrahim.

Valentine drove off the first ball for four, but for the next 15 minutes a spell of very quiet play was followed, broken only by a perfect on drive to the boundary by Jardine, which evoked applause.

Then three wickets fell in quick succession.

Jardine was dismissed by Harris a fast good length ball which just struck the blade (196-5-40).

He was followed in quick succession by Human and Gregory. The former was clean bowled by Harris in a similar manner to Jardine and Gregory was out for l b w (204-7-1). Valentine and Nichols then struck up a fine partnership Valentine especially playing with increased confidence as the game advanced.

Two hundred were signalled in 160 minutes, and when Hawke came on again some time later, the Kent amateur met him on the pitch yards out of the crease. After Valentine had reached his individual 50 in 90 minutes, Nichols straight drove Aste for a magnificent six right over the Gymkhana pavilion. When the partnership had added 72 runs for the eighth wicket, Valentine was out in an unlucky manner, though the wicket keeper Abdul Aziz deserves credit for a very smart piece of stumping. Valentine in playing forward to a good-length ball from Mascarenhas missed, and Aziz had the ball in his hand. Aziz had half gone through the process of tossing the ball back to bowler when he noticed that Valentine had lifted his right foot as though to regain his stance and in the fraction of a second he reversed his motion and whisked the bails off, successfully claiming the stumping appeal. In a stay of 110 minutes, Valentine had scored 59, including eight fours and a six. With the score at the same figure Nichols fell to a brilliant one-handed catch in the slips by Mascarenhas off Harris. (276/9/31).

Levett, the M.C.C. wicketkeeper, enlivened matters by rushing out to almost every ball and was eventually stumped after receiving three lives, including one easy chance of stumping. The M.C.C. innings closed at 4-15 for 292, after having lasted exactly for four hours.

Bowling and fielding was keen throughout, and Mascarenhas' catch in the slips was a notable performance.

RUBIE'S XI INNINGS.

The home side began their innings at 4-40, with Blakeney and Abbas Khan, against the bowling of Nichols and Barnett. Nichols was bowling really fast with wicket-keeper standing well back and three deep in the slips. Blakeney drove the first ball of the innings through covers to the ropes to the accompaniment of applause, but, at the other end Abbaskhan shed his wicket to the fourth ball of Barnett's first over thus repeating the morning experience (4-1-0).

At the same total Blakeney was also bowled.

Abdulla and Khaliq shaped, as though they would pull the game round, scoring through some well-placed twos and singles, but Jardine brought on his spin bowlers Langridge and Townsend, the latter bowling round the wicket to a field which included three men close in. The third wicket fell at 24, yet another batsman Abdullah being clean-bowled. Hawke and Abdul Khaliq played out the time, adding 27 runs before stumps were drawn for the day.

HOW BRITISH INDIA PRESS STRIKE ENDED

Capitalism Bungled To Detriment Of Poor Workers And Whole Social Order

Mr. B. L. Sarang, the General Secretary of the Bombay Press Workers' Union has issued the following statement to the press:—

About a fortnight ago the workers of the British India Press, numbering 460 went out on a strike, being dissatisfied at the indiscriminate wage-cut and several other ill-advised treatments of workers on the part of the Management. The men sought the assistance of the Bombay Press Workers' Union in settling the strike. The Union took immediate measures to form a common plank of negotiations if some understanding should be arrived at with the management. Its daily activity was to carry on the educative propaganda amongst the workers and at the same time to continue negotiations with the managing board.

NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. V. H. Joshi obtained details from the Management and brought terms from Mr. Ghulam-husein, the Managing Director. Mr. Jhabvala, the President of the Union at a later stage, together with the General Secretary and the representatives of the Union struggled with the management when the latter offered other terms.

UNION'S MILITANT POLICY

The Union declared its policy that as Union it could never agree to a wage-cut and it will always press forward the question of improved conditions of the workers so long as it stood for the interest of the workers that it stood clearly for a militant policy but it should be on the principles of truth. It believed in bringing about a general strike of all press workers of Bombay in order to settle the question of the British India Press Workers. But placed as the Union was in a structure of capitalist society and the labour was still unorganised and the objective conditions prevailing today not favourable to the labour in general, it would be in the interest of the strikers, not to leave any stone unturned to bring about a happy end of the strike by accepting the cut that the employers imposed upon the men.

The question now arose as to what should be the cut. The Management agreed with the Union (1) that those earning wages upto Rs. 25 per month should not be touched. (2) those earning wages from Rs. 26 to 30 should be reduced by eight annas per head. (3) that there should be three per cent cut from Rs. 31 to Rs. 50 and (4) from Rs. 51 to Rs. 100 reduction of 6 per cent.

COMMUNAL TURN

The Union also succeeded in getting other minor grievances redressed But so late as Sunday night, the Management who had already resolved to blackleging, crushed the negotiations on the issue of the victimization. Mr. Gulam Husein insisted upon dismissing certain scores of men while the Union in a body were prepared to send in the men if all of them could be taken back. Mr. Gulam Husein firmly resisted and gave a communal turn to the crisis by engaging unskilled Bori workers to the great annoyance of the men who now responded by picketing at all points of vantage ground.

HUSSEIN'S THREAT

On Wednesday again, negotiations were further pressed and Mr. Gulam Husein refused to recognise the Union and talk to its representatives and gave a threatening reply that he would fill in the remaining places in different department with the men on strike if they come back without the interference of the Union. The men heroically clung to the Union and at last decided at their final meeting on Friday morning that their wages for the last month should be taken and those who desire to serve the press on the conditions above stated as brought about by the Union should take back their places.

Thus the strike has terminated with capitalism bungling to the detriment of the poor workers and the whole social order.

STRENGTH OF UNION

The strike has given a great inpetus to the organisation to the Press Workers in Bombay and also imparted discipline to the workers. The Union now prays to all workers that they should never down tools without consulting the Union but represent all the grievances to the Union so that it will put up the best fight possible for the men.

COMMUNALISM RAMPANT

The presidential address of Bhai Parmanand at the fifteenth session of the All-India Hindu Mahasabha at Ajmer justifies the worst fears about the tendencies of the Communal Award. The Award is calculated, if not designed, to intensify communal prejudices in the country, and men like Bhai Parmanand, on the one hand, and Mr. A. H. Ghuznavi, on the other, are doing everything possible to fan the flames of communal jealousy. Mr. Ghuznavi calls upon the Muslims to put up a united fight in defence of the Award, and Bhai Parmanand appeals to the Hindus to unite in opposing it. The former will not be taken seriously by his co-religionists, as the Award, which deprives them of their majority in Bengal and the Punjab, is anything but a boon to them. But the latter's presidential speech may mislead some Hindus who are smarting under a sense of the injustice done to them by the Award.

HOPELESSLY WRONG

Bhai Parmanand is quite right in condemning the Award and particularly that part of it which concerns the Hindus. But he is hopelessly in the wrong in his methods of resisting it. He states plainly that it is futile to seek to win Swaraj through Hindu-Muslim unity and that, "when the power of gift is in the hands of Government," a new policy should be pursued, evidently meaning that Hindus should ally themselves with the Government in resisting the claims of a sister community. A more suicidal and unconscionable policy cannot be imagined and it is no excuse to urge that such a policy has already been followed by a section of Muslims with apparently good results to that community.

ANTI-CONGRESS APPEAL

As regards the organisation for carrying out his new policy, Bhai Parmanand calls upon the Hindus to desert the Congress as being "altogether unfit to oppose the proposed constitution on communal grounds" and "to seek the shelter of the Hindu Mahasabha and work out their salvation through Hindu Sangathan." Bhai-ji's conception of opposing the new constitution is extremly limited. He says nothing about its political merits or demerits. He thinks only of the comparative position of the Hindus as against the Muslims. It is quite true therefore, that the Congress is incapable of regarding any constitution from so narrow a point of view. But most Hindus rightly rally round the Congress banner in opposing the whole of the new constitution and would not cease opposing it even if they are promised a few more crumbs at the expense of some other community.

DEFENDERS OF PRIVILEGE

A careful examination of Bhai Parmanand's conception of Hindu Sangatham will leave level-headed Hindus cold. One expected that a reputed reformer like Bhai Parmanand would advocate the complete fusion of the Depressed Classes into the Hindu fold, if only for the sake of Hindu solidarity, of which he talks so much. But observe how he could deal with them. He thinks that anti-untouchability work "can properly be done by the Hindu Mahasabha alone as representing the true interests of the Hindus and as being the only advocate of Hindu solidarity." But on the vital point of temple entry he gives away his whole case of solidarity and says:

> The Hindu Mahasabha having all along followed the policy of remaining neutral on religious questions, cannot bring any pressure to bear on the followers of a particular sect to open their temples to any other class for which the temples were not supposed to be meant.

This touching regard for the religious susceptibilities of and the creed of religious neutrality towards the communities in the Mahasabha, leading it to an astounding declaration of religious neutrality as strict as the blessed Queen's proclamation, may also prevent it from bringing any pressure to bear on caste Hindus to open public wells and tanks to the Harijans or in the final resort from doing anything at all to protect the Hindu religion. If Bhai Permanand is right, the Mahasabha exists, not for the defence of religous but only to protect and preserve the social tyranny of a haughty caste system. This pose of neutrality will hardly enthuse those Hindus who suffer from social or religious disabilities. In any case, Bhai Permanand has made it clear that communal institutions like the Mahasabha are not the best organisations to carry on political agitation on sound national lines.

Political Burlesque At C. J. Hall

We are surprised at the ignorance displayed by Sir Cowasji Jehangir in his lecture on the "Political Situation," on Saturday last. Sir Cowasji was quite wrong when he said that the W. P. is the common measure of agreement between the various Indian representatives at the Round Table Conference. It is nothing of the kind. Sir Tej Bahadur's retirement from the scene is an obvious proof of that. Sir Cowasji said the White Paper is not acceptable to the Moderates, but he did not tell his audience what his party is going to do, when it becomes the constitution of this country.

We wonder whether the Western India Liberals are now preparing themselves to accept the inevitable, like practical politicians, as they like calling themselves, though in the beginning they refused to look at the White Paper and loudly told the world of their intention not to have anything to do with it.

Sir Cowasji appealed to Indians to show a united front, instead of abusing each other and grabbing at power. The White Paper concedes so little power that the expression is incongruous; and we do not know who is indulging in abuse. But we are not much concerned with these dialectical fireworks. We have continually appealed for a united front but how is it possible when the Moderates will have it on their own terms and are at sixes and sevens even among themselves. We thought the members of the Western India Liberal Party were bound by its decision, but here are Sir Cowasji Jehangir and Sir Pheroze Sethna doing just as they like by co-operating with the Joint Parliamentary Committee, knowing that it is impossible to improve the White Paper and that the whole policy underlying it was rejected by their party.

In the painful situation Sir Cowasji Jehangir has created for himself and the country, and in face of the encouragement he has given to those who are merely cheating India of her freedom, this demand for unity coming from his lips is comic. But it is laso an impertinence.

Sir Cowasji indulged in a great deal of misrepresentation about the Congress and its methods. We have no objection to the Moderates pursuing their traditional ways of agitation for winning Dominion Status by submitting long and learned memorials, making long and erudite speeches, and assisting at long and almost interminable constitutional discussions, but no "civilized" country has attained Swaraj in that way. If he will refer to ancient or modern history he will find that he has misunderstood the whole position in his excessive zeal to co-operate with the Government. The Congress has never used the lathi or the stone, rather the Government of which Sir Cowasji was once such an ornament have used it against non-violent Congressmen. Sir Cowasji has no right to pervert facts to bolster up his peculiar arguments.

Germany Isolated

The expected has happened and the Germans have left the Disarmament Conference, as well as the League of Nations, in high dudgeon. The Nazis who have always an eye for the dramatic have dissolved the Reichstag and the provincial parliaments, which are now wholly composed of Nazis, —the other parties having been elminated by their usual methods. —and altogether one might suppose they were clearing the decks for war. The Germans may have some ground for this attitude but their demands are preposterous.

In face of their present mood, it would be sheer madness for France to disarm herself, or in the alternative to allow the Nazis to arm themselves. Germany is not furthering the cause of disarmament by demanding that she should be allowed to arm herself to the teeth. Even without additional arms, she has been invading the territory of her neighbours in search of her victims, and doing everything possible to provoke a European conflict. Nobody can contemplate with equanimity what will happen if Hitler's desire is granted.

Recent events in Germany must have caused Mr. Norman Davis, the American Observer, to give his support to England and France, as it is plain that not by increasing armaments but by scrapping them will be able to achieve its object. It is evident that the other Powers are unanimous in their decision that Germany should not be allowed to increase her armaments. And they have good reason for it, whatever one may think of their own perversity and disinclination to arm. Freedom to Germany to arm may provoke a conflagration in Europe, and perhaps in the whole world.

For the same reason that Germany cannot be given freedom to arm, France has every justification for refusing to surrender her arms. Germany has contributed not a little to that frame of mind, and she must blame herself for it. We are not concerned with the new elections in Germany, for at present there is only one party, since the Nazis have forcibly suppressed their rivals by various means. It matters little, therefore, whether the Nazis record their protest against the decision of the Disarmament Conference in not allowing Germany to rearm herself, for their attitude in such matters is too notorious.

It is significant that even Italy has allied herself with France and America, in this matter for it was obvious that she was very friendly to Hitler's government at first and sympathised with Nazi aspirations. Germany is now isolated, and has not a single friend in Europe or America. This is the direct result of her own actions, she cannot blame anybody for it and she has no ground of complaint. Sooner or later Hitler and his infatuated followers will have to learn, that no government that pursues a policy of such selfish national exclusion and insularity and enforces it by such brutal means can expect to have any friends.

Need Of The Hour

We think it is necessary to call a meeting of the All-India Congress Committee to consider the present situation in the country. Now that Civil Disobedience has been abandoned practically by unanimous agreement, the country stands in need of a lead in the direction of constructive action; and the All-India Congress Committee alone can give this lead. Mahatmaji has made no secret of his opinion that he attaches a great deal of importance to constructive effort That is indeed the need of the hour. Besides this, there are various other matters which require the attention of the All-India Congress Committee. The country needs a well-thought-out programme It is no time for academic discussions as regards the political and economic goal and such other things.—"Forward."

Not Now

Congressmen anxious to occupy "every piece of vantage ground" would do well by concerted action to create such a vantage ground so that they may not be disillusioned when the time for giving a fight actually comes. Frankly speaking, this is not the time for discussing the question of working the constitution for what it is worth. It will be considered in due course. In the meantime Congressmen must mobilise public opinion against the policy underlying the White Paper scheme and its particularly reactionary provisions Large numbers of people are still in jails some as police suspects in detention camps and others as Civil Disobedience prisoners. It is they and they alone who have the right and competence to determine the issue relating to the Council entry programme. To decide the question now is not only premature and useless but would be a blunder, and perhaps a betrayal—"Advance".

CHANGES IN NIZAM'S CABINET

People Of Hyderbad Perturbed

From "Fairplay."

If the forecast of the impending changes in the Hyderabad Cabinet published by some papers is true, allow me to assure you—and through you the Government of India—that the changes will not at all be welcomed by the people or the aristocracy of Hyderabad for reasons which are not personal but are based on a sound principle of public administration, viz. other things being equal, sons of the soil should always be preferred to outsiders in administrative posts.

As Maharaja Sir Kishen Pershad Bahadur and Nawab Sir Amin Jung Bahadur are both old enough to retire,—one can understand their being allowed to enjoy their well-earned rest. But Nawab Lutfuddowlah Bahadur is quite young and active. He is one of the Paigah Amirs and has been known to be a very conscientious Minister. The news of his retirement will therefore, cast a gloom over the people of Hyderabad, both Hindus and Muslims, and the aristocracy will take it as an affront to their order.

MULKIS DISLODGED

While we Hyderabadis were hoping that, if Sir Kishen Pershad Bahadur retires, some Mulki would be chosen to take his place, the news comes not only that hope is not going to materialise but that the only two ative Mulkis in the Cabinet, viz. Lutfudowlah and Mehdi Yar Jung Bahadur are going to be dislodged is indeed depressing.

As for the Law Membership, for which post the names of Raja Bahaur G. Krishnamachariar and Dewan Bahadur Arvahmudu Ayengar are mentioned, why should not a local Hindu be given preference. There is Raja Bahadur Justice Giri Rao whose work on the bench of the High Court and on the Judicial Committee eminently entitled him to a seat on the cabinet. As he is a Mulki, his appointment will be more acceptable to the people of Hyderabad than that of any one of the two gentlemen your correspondent has forecasted.

VETERANS PASSED OVER

As for Presidentship, when there are such veteran statesmen in the State as Nawab Salar Jung Bahadur, Nawab Fakhrul Mulk Bahadur and Nawab Sir Nizamat Jung Bahadur—persons who enjoy the confidence of the Government of India and His Exalted Highness, besides commanding the confidence of the people of Hyderabad I fail to see with what justification, their claims to serve their Sovereign and State at this critical juncture in the history of Hyderabad can be passed over.

The impending changes, if they are expected to improve the existing state of affairs, must provide a seat to Nawab Ali Nawaz Jung Bahadur in the Executive Council. Like Sir M. Visvesaryya, Ali Nawaz Jung is a rare combination of an engineer, economist and administrator. He is a Hyderabadi and enjoys the confidence of the Government of India, the Nizam and his people. Professionally he ranks with the top men in India. It will be remembered that he was one of the two experts invited by the Bombay Government to report on the Sukkur Barrage scheme, the other one being Sir M. Visvessaryya. Here again, I fail to see how Ali Nawaz Jung can be left out.

I do hope, Sir, the Government of India will pay due consideration to the points I have raised. I assure them most confidently that I am voicing the views of the people of Hyderabad.

Frankly Speaking

HIS GREATEST ASSET

Whatever Sir Samuel Hoare may think or say there are breakers ahead of him. Die-Hard opposition to the White Paper is gathering momentum every day, and the reactionaries hope to carry everything before them by a grand assault.

We have no doubt that Mr. Churchill is right in his assertion that the Tory minority is resolute in its opposition to Central responsibility. He believes that at least one-third of the Tory supporters will be alienated, if Government do not amend the W. P. policy.

But even a broad-minded Conservative like Mr. Hales is convinced that the White Paper policy will not be acceptable to India, and that only by agreement with India will it be possible for the British Cabinet to satisfy the country.

But then Mr. Hales has seen things with his own eyes and has travelled from one end of India to another. In contrast Mr. Churchill's greatest asset is his ignorance of Indian conditions.

NAZISM IN GERMANY AND INDIA

The expulsion of four foreign lawyers for their protest against the way the Reichstag trial was being conducted, merely shows the length to which the Nazi Court was prepared to go.

The President of the Court, who is a confirmed Nazi, thought the protest of the four eminent lawyers a "monstrous slander" As a matter of fact the lawyers had only drawn the attention of the court to what had actually taken place.

Indians, however, cannot with good grace complain against the Nazi unfairness to accused, when worse things are taking place in India. The Bikanir case is an example.

Here the accused have been kept in prison for months together and even now they are not given those facilities which are the due of every accused in a fair and constitutional trial.

Neither the Maharajah, who calls himself a model prince, nor his Dewan seems inclined to do anything, and the trial is going on, with the dice heavily loaded against the accused.

SCINDIA S. N. COY.

The stormy scenes that marked the general meeting of the Scindia Steam Navigation Company should impress upon that body the need for a close scrutiny of its methods of administration.

Exposed to severe competition from both Britain and Japan without any protection from Government, the Company can safeguard its position only by maintaining the highest possible efficiency at the lowest possible cost.

We are not convinced that the management has given due attention to the essential need for economy in these days of depression. It seems rather to justify high cost by assuming that it necessarily means high efficiency.

It is, however, satisfactory to learn that since 1922-23 the Shore staff of the Company has been entirely Indian and that it has engaged 22 cadets from the Indian Mercantile Marine Training Ship "Dufferin" which is turning out a fine type of boys, who can hold their own with any in the world.

—AND PROTECTION.

Whatever shortcomings may be found in the management of this company, it undoubtedly needs, as does Indian shipping in general, due protection from the State against foreign competition.

The coastal shipping of most maritime countries in the world is reserved for their own nationals, but things are notoriously different in India.

The British, who hold a dominant position in our coastal shipping are busy forging safeguards to perpetuate that position, regardless of the just claims of Indians.

Indian interests being neglected by our own Government, Japan has found it easy to invade even our coastal shipping. Aided by the State in a variety of ways, Japan is dumping both her tonnage and goods on India at most uneconomic rates.

QUITE IDIOTIC

In declaring open the Swadeshi exhibition at Ajmer, Col. Ogilvie, the Agent to the Governor-General in Rajputana, gave expression to the usual official sentiments about Swadeshi and the Government's part in its encouragement.

Mr. Harbilas Sarda cordially co-operated and extolled the protection given by the Government to a number of industries in recent years, ignoring the fact that it is the duty of every administration to do so, and this duty is even now not adequately recognised.

Col. Ogilvie said "genuine Swadeshi divorced from politics deserved every support,"—a perfectly idiotic statement.

What are all these safeguards against discrimination, the tearing, raging propaganda by Chirchill and Company for, but to protect British industries and British capitalists? The whole economic development of a country is entirely dependent on its politics.

If there were no Swadeshi movement, there would have been no revival of Indian industries. The movement was started as a political move in the first instance and by political agitation only can it succeed.

THE SELECTION COMMITTEE

From Lakhmidas Rowjee Tairsee.

Presiding at the function of the Hindu Gymkhana in honour of Nawab of Pataudi, I drew pointed attention to the anomalous position viz. that the Nawab of Pataudi, though an Indian, cannot play for India and that the team to represent India is to be selected by a committee of which the majority are to be non-Indians.

Mr. Chagla had raised that question previously and now Maulana Saukat Ali is in the field, but he is out of the grease, as he would agree to Mr. A. L. Hosie being one of the selectors. Whatever Mr. Hosie's qualifications, otherwise, he should have no place in the selection committee, not being an Indian.

I am sorry that you Sir Editor agree with Maulana Shaukatali in his suggestion of the presence of one non-Indian. If that makes no difference to you then the presence of two need not. The question is not one of mathematics but of principle, viz. that the Indian team should be selected by Indians and I prefer that the test matches be not played to their being selected by non-Indians.

"Wanted No New Party"

From "Vaishnav"

No sane or sensible man would support the arguments, of Mr. Hushedar Negedar, put forth for a new party at this critical stage. No doubt Mrs. Besant did render meritorious service to our Motherland but to say that she started her League to outdo, or to eclipse or to vivify the then Congress is far from truth and a bit verging on travesty of truth.

Congress is never dead and will never die. To say that "Congress is slowly dying away' is nothing but an exhibition of total ignorance of the function as well as of the constitution of the Congress.

Is mere courting jail-life the only proof of sincere service, and praiseworthy sacrifice for our India? "It is surely not the only proof!" One who criticises the present day programmes and methods of Congress, must not forget that it is very easy to criticise. It is very difficult, terribly taxing and trying to construct, start and keep up any institution going on smoothly and that too for the maximum good of the maximum number.

At this critical juncture, according to my humble opinion the work of one and all is to unite under one common banner rather than to create new parties. One must not overlook the fact that India will be able to work wonders and will surely usher in an era of equality, fraternity and liberty in the very near future, if we, all the youths, irrespective of caste, colour and creed, join hands together as 'members of one central party, remaining under the banner of the Congress. What we want is a united party, a strong forceful front. With due respect to Mr. Horniman, I would like to suggest the name of "Jawahir" or "Bose", not as a leader of a new Republican party but as a tutor or as a trustee of the younger brothers, to come forth and help us on with a programme to lead us on.

Democracy In Mysore

From Hosakoppa Krishnarao.

It is indeed a great pity that the Dewan in his speeches to the Assembly just closed thought fit to remark that "democracy is dead and dying," a clear exposure of his want of appreciation of the strides which Democracy is making in these days.

The whole speech appears to me a sickening exhibition of the want of a thorough knowledge and liberal interpretation of democracy and its ideals. No administration can wisely neglect the claims of democracy for its rightful place, the more so in the case of Mysore which has come to be called a Model State, the government having the supposed moral backing of the people.

The speech is amazing, coming as it does, not from a political obscurantist but from one whose claim for political sagacity has something to count. It remains to be seen whether the ideal of Sir Mirza, which is an affront to the commonsense and intelligence of the Assembly, will ever be cooly pocketed!

"YOUTHS' FEDERATION"

From "Sentinel"

It seems desirable to have a Cosmopolitan Organisation of youths of all communities combined to work for common purposes. There are many problems in which youths have stake and fields for co-operation and service, where youthful energy and vision should count a good deal.

The questions of overhauling the present day education, curing unemployment among educated youths and helping other poor students as well for getting education and enlightenment, building communal unity, working for social uplift of the depressed and the down-trodden carrying on constructive activities and nation-building work, clearing the atmosphere of camouflage and cant in social, religious and political spheres, keeping up the true culture and traditions of races, understanding and appreciating the new ideals of the times, and visualising and striving towards an international brotherhood of men—these and many others can be worthy objects of pursuit for youths of any country.

There are many associations in our country of young Hindus, Mahomedans, Europeans, Parsis, Christians, which can make a common platform and co-ordinate themselves into a "Youths Federation" with their representatives upon it. Young men of Bombay can make a beginning in this direction and such organisation can spread all over India even in cities and villages of India and far over the world even to great benefit. But it needs to be emphasised to move clear of any party-politics and have a programme above all, passing controversies for there is much good substantial work to be done on a common platform.

Mr. Samuel David's Fast

From "Bene-Israel".

Mr. Samuel David is still continuing his fast. He takes water twice a day. To-day is the 10th day of his fast and he is considerably pulled down in health. This has been a cause of great anxiety for his relations and friends, but the office-bearers of the Jamat are still stubborn and show great indifference in this matter.

Whether legally elected or not or whatever may have been alleged by Mr. Samuel, we would ask the office-bearers, as the leaders of the community, to understand their duty and responsibility when such a critical situation is ahead, and not to ignore it by irrelevant reply—"What does the Jamat care if ten more were to die?"—as given by the Secretary Mr. Elijah Hyam to one of the members who went to him with a request to call a meeting of the Jamat.

This is a question of life and death of no one else but one of our fold and hence the duty of every member is to try to save it since it has been staked for matters none other than concerning the Jamat.

The Secretary should call a meeting of the Jamat immediately and the office-bearers and the leading members of the Jamat to bring about an immediate and amicable settlement and thus save the life of a young man and win the laurels.

Talks On Untouchability

From B. S. Rajadhyax.

The other day Mrs. Sarojini Naidu gave an instructive talk about the life and work of the late Dr. Annie Besant to the school-going children. This is, indeed, a desirable programme to be arranged in any propaganda.

If this kind of programme is arranged for the removal of untouchability, I am quite confident, it would be more effective as far as children are concerned. It is our duty to educate children and dispel the idea of untouchability from juvenile minds for to-day's children are the pillars of nation and Hinduism to-morrow.

I appeal to the Secretary of the Servants of Untouchables Society to arrange such a programme with a view to get out children's minds clear of the idea which has so far proved deterimental to the progress of Hinduism.

Raja Ram Mohan Roy Prophet Of Modern India

London Pays Striking Centenary Tribute To Great Reformer Who Gave Death-Blow To Cult Of Blind Idolatry

LONDON, (By Air Mail.)

Indians in England and their British friends have been celebrating the centenary of the death of Raja Ram Mohan Roy, the famous Hindu reformer. Following various functions in London, a large party made a pilgrimage to his tomb at Bristol, where they were welcomed by the civic authorities. A short service was held at the tomb, on which the visitors placed flowers and wreaths. Afterwards they attended a civic reception and luncheon at which the Lord Mayor of Bristol paid tribute to Raja Ram Mohan Roy's memory.

NOTABLE SERVICES.

He dwelt on his work to bring the East and West into closer understanding and sympathy, and expressed the hope that his example would inspire people to-day to strive for unity and co-operation. Mr. A. Yusuf Ali, replying on behalf of the Indians present, said that a bridge to join the peoples of Great Britain and India must and would be built. "We see signs all round" he said, "that such a bridge is desired."

The Bishop of Malmesbury said that he felt that every great nation could give a gift to civilisation and India's gift was to remind them that life should be placed in its proper relation to eternity.

The party then visited various places in Bristol associated with Raja Ram Mohan Roy, including the house where he lived and died and the chapel where he worshipped. Visitors were allowed to take as mementoes pieces of masonry which had been kept after the Raja's tomb was renovated some years ago.

GREATEST INDIAN.

The celebrations in London began with a sairee at Esexs Hall. Sir Bhupendra Nath Mitra presided over a large attendance. He described Raja Ram Mohan Roy as one of the greatest Indians of modern times. He lived and died during a period of transition in Indian history when the greatness and grandeur of the Moghul Empire were departed and India had not yet begun to feel the effects of Pax Britannica. Sturdy independence of thought was one of his characteristics. He was the pioneer of every advance which had been made by the Hindu community in the nineteeth century.

Mr. Yusuf Ali said it was not only because he lived and died in England that it was appropriate for Indians and English together to celebrate the centenary of his death in this country. His generation saw the first efforts in cultural co-operation between Britain and India. The names of Raja Ram Mohan Roy and David Hare were inseparably associated with the beginnings of English education in Bengal. The liberalised outlook of Hinduism could be traced to their joint efforts. The constitutional position of India was being examined anew by the British Parliament a century ago and Raja Ram Mohan Roy was heard as a witness by a Joint Select Committee of the House of Commons. To-day Indians were not only heard by a Joint Select Committee of both Houses of Parliament, but were being consulted as colleagues in evolving a new constitution for India. The co-operation of British and Indians was never more necessary than it was to-day. Disastrous results would accrue from non-co-operation, not only to India but to Britain and the British Empire. Raja Ram Mohan Roy carried about him an atmosphere of peace and reconciliation. "If we could revive that atmosphere in India to-day, said Mr. Ali, "half our difficulties would be solved."

In the Bramo Samaj, the Society which he founded, Hinduism was brought nearer to Islam and Christianity.

MODERN INDIA PROPHET.

J. G. Gadre, speaking on behalf of the Bombay Prarthana Samaj called Raja Ram Mohan Roy the "Prophet of Modern India". Many social and religious reforms which he inaugurated a century ago were being only half-heartedly taken up by present day Indians, but as time advanced the value of his life and work would be better appreciated. He was a beacon light for coming generations. Mr. Shoran Singha (Quaker) said Raja Ram Mohan Roy was India's first unofficial ambassador to England. He came with a dual purpose, first to bring home to British minds that the day would come when India would demand her rightful place in the British Commonwealth of Nations and, secondly, to interpret by his words and actions the highest and best that the India of his ideals stood for. "What is dividing us Indians to-day" he added, "is not the essentials, for which every religion stands, but the non-essentials, which have grown up as the result of traditions, historical circumstances and priest-craft."

Sir Husain Suhrawardy said Raja Ram Mohan Roy was the first to advocate English education and the teaching of science in India.

BLOW TO BLIND BELIEFS.

Preaching a Memorial Service at the Unitarian Christian Church Sir Albion Banerji, representing the Brahmo Samaj, said Raja Ram Mohan Roy was born at a time when the majority of Indian people were steeped in ignorance and superstition. The teachings of the Hindu scriptures had almost been forgotten and the religion of ancient India had degenerated into all forms of idolatry, some of which were crude and vulgar.

It was Raja Ram Mohan Roy's anxious aim not only to restore monotheism and the spirituality of the ancient sages, but to spread true religion among all classes of men without distinction of caste or sex.

His life and work served to show the paramount need for consolidating the national life of the people of India, irrespective of caste, creed or religion; for an uncompromising spirit with which to fight corruption, falsehood and social and moral degeneration; and above all for a strong and abiding faith in one Universal God.—Reuter.

WORLD FAMOUS WIZARD IN BOMBAY

Professor Amin Astounds "Chronicle" Man With Strange Feat

Professor Amin, who has just settled down to practice, is a very remarkable man. The other day writes a representative of "The Chronicle", he walked into the "Chronicle" office and asked me to write down a question on a tiny piece of paper. This I did. The paper was then folded into a tiny chit and remained in my closed hand till the Professor told me to drop it, into a hat, to think of a flower and to name two single numbers and a double number. I thought of a rose and gave the numbers 5 and 7 and 67.

Then I was allowed to open the closed chit. I did so and found the answer to my query written underneath the question itself, in a strange hand writing. I must say I was dumbfounded. I have seen similar feats performed by trick by many conjurors, but I have to confess that I can't see where there was any possibility for trickery here. "How is it done, Professor", I asked. He laughed and then became quite serious.

"By telepathy and a certain spiritual force of which I have acquired the secret by prolonged study, "he said simply and gravely.

Then the Professor proceeded to show his versatility by reading character from palms with uncanny accuracy and foretelling futures. The Professor has devoted a life study to hypnotism, spiritualism, psychic power, occultism and crystal gazing. He has won fame all over the world. His gold medals earned in England, America and India completely cover the waistcoat on which he wears them. Many visitors to Wembley Exhibition will remember him as the wonderful Indian magician who astounded thousands of sceptics by his extraordinary feats.

He also practises as a healer of chronic diseases by mesmerism and claims to have achieved astounding cures.

He is remaining for some time in Bombay at Empire Building, Hornby Road.

GRIEVANCES OF BIKANER ACCUSED

Demands Laid Before Prime Minister

The Bikaner Political Case Committee understands that the Bikaner Conspiracy Case accused have informed in writing to the Prime Minister about their grievances and demands as follows:—

(1) Facilities be granted as regards lodging, boarding and other necessities such as reading, writing, provision of newspapers and books.

(2) Lavatories and bath-rooms should be clean.

(3) Facilities of defence by an outside counsel of their own choice, as no counsel in the State feels safe to defend them.

INTERVIEW DISALLOWED

The Bikaner Political Case Committee has issued the following statement, dated October 15th:—

"The Jail authorities of Bikaner State, up till now, used to allow Sjt. Shiv Dyal to interview the Bikaner "Conspiracy" Case accused, on behalf of the Bikaner Political Case Committee. It may be remembered that the accused abandoned their hunger-strike on receiving promise from the Prime Minister that he would redress all their grievances, as regards their jail treatment. Instead the State now disallows even this only interview."

along exactly the same lines as the Tories in the matter of armaments, imperialism and bigoted narrow nationalism seeking for the superiority of British trade and finance in other peoples lands in different parts of the world.

The opinion among all the political parties is almost unanimous, that the Labour Party Conference has finished most ignominously at Hastings for all the sections concerned.

DIVIDED TORIES

The Conservative Party Conference at Birmingham is not likely to have better results. Mr. Baldwin, the leader of the Tories, openly acknowledges the policy of opportunism. Many of the Conservative Ministers in the present Cabinet consider it safer to follow his milk and water Tory policy in order to safeguard their future political careers.

Lord Beaverbrook still keeps beating the air from outside for his leadership for a policy of what he fantastically calls Empire Free Trade. His policy has got the charm of a negative value, as one good enough to beat down Baldwin with but the whole of the Empire Free trade programme is so openly dishonest and inconsistent that it gives no conviction to the people at large. Empire Free Trade means big profits and dividends to British manufacturers and British farmers in Great Britain, then a secondary position for the White Dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the exclusively White population of South Africa.

Then for the conquered Colonies and the conquered people of India, Africa, Australia, and China where it is to be a political and economical slavery, allowing the white manufacturers of the Empire to make profits out of them both ways. First, by using them as customers of manufactured goods at fabulous prices and secondly by taking away raw materials, such as oil-seeds, rubber, cocoanut, tea, sugar, jute, etc., out of their lands on slave terms.

DEFENDERS OF IMPERIALISM

The other noisy section in the Conservative Conference is the so-called India Defence League, which under this dishonourable name is openly advocating further oppression in India. The India Defence League mean to defend the rights of British imperialists to rob India and not defend her against imperialist robbery and tyranny. This section in its melodramatic agitation is trying to deceive the world that the wretched White Paper Scheme of the present government is a scheme of extreme advance for India. Thus the present Conservative Conference will be a conference of tactics and counter tactics amongst its own section without making any useful contribution towards the great world problems of disarmament, unemployment, imperialism and fascism, etc.

One more victory of the British imperialists during the week has been against the poor African Chief Tshekedi. They have brought a most humiliating and crushing surrender on the part of his Chief who hitherto had enjoyed a reputation for some independence of spirit. There is no doubt that Tshekedi has displayed an unexpected measure of weakness in his anxiety to secure a position of comfort and honour even at the sacrifice of his self-respect, let alone, a spirit of independence agaisst the imperialist demand.

However, the Tshekedi case has raised new issues which are not going to die out with Tshekedi's surrender. A "joint council for equal civil liberties for coloured and White population is in formation and will probably be publicly announced next week. It will be composed of British, Negro and Indian members to begin with. Its first task will be to issue a manifesto to be signed by leading persons who may be bona fide lovers of freedom.

REICHSTAG FIRE TRIAL

The German Reichstag fire trial is going on at Leipzig, but, as it seems to be a trial with foregone conclusion on two sides, it gives no dramatic surprises from day to day. The Reichstag incident did help Hitler in getting into power, but this trick of the Nazi Party is now reacting against themselves and is bringing them into sudden unpopularity. The findings of the London trial do not appear to be shaken out by any convincing proof or evidence of the Leipzig trial.

Prof. Einstein's great meeting at the Albert Hall, during the week, with its immediate subscripton of four thousand pounds raised in cash at the meeting for helping the victims of German Nazis, has pronounced to the world the unpopularity of Hitlerism among the British masses. The presence of Sir Austen Chamberlain at this meeting has given an international value to this unpopularity. This has been followed by Sir Ormesby Gore's speech at the League of Nations' meeting which denounced German fascism in a most extraordinary and unprecedented manner.

Just as these reactions against Nazism were developing, the attempt on the life of Doctor Dollfuss, the pocket Chancellor of Austria, has put the seal of almost universal European and American disapprobation of Nazi methods and Nazi claims. Fascism in Italy so far had confined itself to Italian politics and Italian aspirations. German fascism apart from its oppressive policy against the German working class puts forward a military and imperialist ambition which has startled the whole of Europe and America and further its woeful policy of persecution of the Jews is earning for its the disgrace of the entire world

BHAVNAGAR SOLVES HER RURAL PROBLEM

State Compounds Cultivators' Huge Debts With Efficient Safeguards For Money-Lenders And Sowcars

BHAVNAGAR, (By Mail).

The problem of rural indebtedness is on a fair way to solution in Bhavnagar state, thanks to Sir Prabhasankar Pattani's determined efforts in this direction.

The phenomenal fall in the price of agricultural produce accentuated a situation which was already serious. This has been met over two-thirds of the State by settlement of cultivators debts amounting to Rs. 59,87,000. Over the remaining area the debts are about to be similarly compounded, so that one of the greatest obstacles to agricultural development are about to be permanently removed.

SQUARE DEAL TO ALL.

Efficient safeguards are being provided against possible alienation of the money lenders' sympathies and against the sowcars feeling that the authorities responsible for settling and compounding their claims on the cultivators did not give them a square deal and failed to take into account all the assets of the cultivators seeking liquidation of their liabilities.

Equally stringent measures are being devised against the cultivators relapsing intc indebtedness. This is to be secured by a substantial reduction in land revenue in consideration of the tightness of the money market. A relaxation in the recovery of arrears of land revenue and takkavi loans, exemption from the obligation for a period of five years of paying instalments to cover the amount received towards redemption and exercise of the State's right to control the rate of interest charged by village sowcars and to check the credit and debit sides in the duplicate account books kept in custody of the cultivators.

CHECKING EXTRAVAGANCE.

Care is being taken to start co-operative credit societies and land mortgage banks on a scale commensurate with the needs of the cultivating classes and to check their expenditure on marriages and funerals by bringing moral pressure to bear upon them before resorting to the extreme remedy of a legislative enactment such as was enforced by His Highness the late Maharaja Sir Bhavsinhji of Bhavnagar to stamp out reckless expenditure of "death dinners."

IN TWO OTHER STATES.

Bhavnagar's success in redeeming the private debts of its cultivators has encouraged two other States in Kathiawar to a similar effort. These two States are about to collect evidence on the causes of rural indebtedness.—A. P.

SURPLUS BUDGET FOR BHOPAL STATE

Leader Of Council Announces Remission Of Over Rs. 15,000 On Account Of Arrears And Offers Concession For Prompt Payment

BHOPAL, Oct. 14.

Addressing the budget session of the Bhopal Legislative Council which has just concluded, the Hon. Raja Oudhnarayan Bisariya, Law Member and the leader of the House, made an important statement on behalf of the Government to-day.

He announced that in view of demands of the people as voiced at various meetings of patels in the State the Government had decided to undertake the revision of land revenue settlement with the object of removing alleged uneven assessment and also to see if some relief could be given to the tenants during this period of economic depression. He further stated that the Government had remitted Rs. 15,800 on account of old arrears and had allowed a general reduction of two to three annas in the rupee as concession for prompt payment.

REFORMS SCHEME.

The Raja then detailed the various reforms proposed to be carried out in the State during the year.

These included ordering of tractors for breaking virgin lands, opening of agricultural classes in village schools, reduction in tuition fees in State educational institutions, improvement of existing roads and opening up of new ones, provision of irrigation facilities and institution of new measures of medical relief and public health in the interior of the State.

The most outstanding achievement of the State during the year was handling of lakhs of Singhist pilgrims, who passed through Bhopal on their way to and back from Ujjain.

During this session 119 interpellations were asked and answered. Notice of 35 resolutions was given out of which 23 were moved. They covered a wide range of subjects.

BHOPAL FOR BHOPALIS.

Mr. Hafiz Nasiruddin moved that no non-Bhopali should be appointed by any Minister except with the previous sanction of the State Council.

This was carried.

Seth Pratapmal sponsored, with the success, a resolution asking for an organisation and holding of agricultural and industrial exhibitions in the State.

INQUIRY INTO UNEMPLOYMENT.

Munshi Nasiruddin, pleader, wanted the appointment of an enquiry committee to report on the extent of unemployment in the State and to suggest measures for fighting it.

Another resolution from the same member asked the Government to prevent children under sixteen and women from witnessing cinema shows. The resolution was opposed by the Government and eventually withdrawn on the assurance being given that arrangements had been made by the Government for exhibition of educative films.

BUDGET ESTIMATES.

The budget figures show Rs. 50,57,350 as estimated income for the next year. It is estimated that expenditure comes to nearly Rs. 46 lakhs thus leaving over 12 lakhs to be carried over to reserve fund. A sum of Rs. 1,28,000 was allotted for the privy purse of His Highness the Ruler.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS.

The budget provides for the following new appointments in the States hospitals:—Captain J. Sahai late I.M.S. as pathologist, Dr. Valimooraj as dental surgeon and one assistant lady surgeon.

Mr. M. M. Sircar is appointed to be Assistant Conservator of Forests and Mr. Haksar as Registrar of Co-operative Societies.—A. P.

Civil Aviation & Railways Hand-in-Hand

Mr. Tymms Makes Suggestions At Simla Conference As To How Cooperation Can Be Achieved Between Two Services

SIMLA, Oct. 14.

The 13th session of the Indian Railway Conference Association concluded its sittings to-day. Proposals for the development of functions of the Conference to increase its usefulness were decided upon.

Mr. Hannay, President, in his concluding address said that the business had been concluded in record time. He thought that the Association had decidedly been wise in giving more time for the meetings of future conferences.

Among the subjects discussed three more outstanding were Mr. Jarrad's proposals for the creation of machinery by means of which considered and authoritative opinion of the Association would be speedily available to the Railway Board, the revision of goods classification and road-rail competition.

Mr. Hannay hoped that the efforts of the Conference would help towards solving of undoubted difficulties ahead of them. He paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Bliss, retiring Secretary, who had been in every sense the guide, philosopher and friend of all presidents.

Mr. Bliss thanking recalled his association with the Conference since 1913 and was happy that his successor Mr. Lawrence was such a keen and able officer. He wished the conference success in future and added: "I believe that the conference is one of the most indispensable organisations in India and I hope that before long it will take the place it is entitled to as one of the main divisions of railway hierarchy."

AVIATION AND RAILWAYS.

Mr. Tymms, Director of Civil Aviation addressing the Conference made an interesting speech in the course of the discussion by the Conference of the policy to be adopted by Railways in regard to the operation of Air services and the lines on which co-operation between the two services, air and Railways, could be secured.

Mr. Tymms expained the present position, so that the Conference might see how that would fit in with any schemes which any railway might have in mind for the operation of air services. He said that the Karachi-Calcutta line was opened in July, the Calcutta-Rangoon extension on 1st October, and the Singapore extension would take place towards the end of December. It was hoped that beyond Singapore, the Australian connection would be established by the Australian Government on 1st April next. The Karachi-Singapore section was a joint Indian and British enterprise. The Indian National Airways would operate a weekly service between Calcutta and Rangoon.

CALCUTTA-RANGOON ROUTE.

Thus there would be two weekly services between Calcutta and Rangoon. The Indian National Airways would also operate a daily service between Calcutta and Dacca. In this service, as in other cases, they would have no contract from Government. They would do it on a passenger basis and would simply ask the Government to give them mails to carry, which would be done.

The third part of the programme was the airmail service from Karachi to North West India. That could only be operated as a mail service, there being insufficient advantage to passengers. They would have the contract and it would operate on the same lines as the Tatas' service to Madras, but its aircraft must have a minimum cruising speed of 130 miles, being 25 miles more than the machines used for Madras. The service would operate only as far as Lahore. N. W. F. P. being a prohibited area for Civil Aviation, it was proposed to run it up to Rawalpindi; but as there would not be sufficient saving in time the service would be operated from Karachi via the Indus Valley to Lahore, stopping places being Jacobabad and Multan. Mails should be delivered in Lahore by 10 or 11 a.m. instead of arriving at Lahore sometime in the evening and being delayed till the next morning.

TATAS' CONTRACT.

The Tata Service was on a ten-year contract. It would be extended to Colombo when negotiations with the Ceylon Government were concluded. That extension to Colombo was only a concession given to the Tatas but the Tatas were entitled to every consideration in connection with air services in South India. For five years they had spared no effort to establish a Karachi-Madras service. Only once was service a day late in going south and they had never missed connection with the Imperial Airways. But since the Tatas showed the way and Trans-India service was announced, Government had been bombarded with proposals to operate air services to and from any part of India.

IF RAILWAYS RUN AIR SERVICES?

The President of the Conference asked, assuming that a Railway wanted to run an air service from Bombay to Calcutta and 'vice versa' would they be blocked by concessions given to other people.

Mr. Tymms replied that the Bombay-Calcutta daily service was obviously one of the developments to come. The Tatas were interested in the scheme and Government were awaiting proposals from them. The question under discussion was whether the route should be direct via Nagpur or via Jubbulpore and Allahabad. There were more landing grounds and probably more traffic on the Jubbulpore-Allahabad route than on the Nagpur route, but the Trans-Continental and Imperial Airways and the Indian National Airways would have first claim on mails between Allahabad and Calcutta.

BURMA SERVICE.

Mr. Bliss enquired about the proposed route for the Burma service.

Mr. Tymms replied that landing places would be Chittagong, Akyab and Sandoway, but the last was only necessary as a refuelling point. It would have contact with the P. and O. mail in both directions.

PROTECT MYSORE IRON WORKS FOR 20 YEARS

Only Charcoal, Iron And Wood Distillation Plant In India And Valuable Asset In Times Of War, Says State Govt.'s Memorandum

(From Our Correspondent)

BANGALORE, Oct. 12.

Mr. John Matthai, President, and Mr. G Wiles and Mr. G. A. Natesan, Members of the Indian Tariff Board, who are now engaged in the question of affording protection to the Iron Industry, will arrive in Bangalore on the 18th inst. from Madras by the Express.

After halting that night at Bangalore, they proceed to Sivasamudram the next day and leave for Bhadravati, to visit the Mysore Iron Works, on the 20th inst. After a stay of two days there, the Tariff Board members will return to Bangalore on the 23rd morning and leave for Madras the same night, from where they proceed to Howrah.

GOVT.'S MEMORANDUM.

The Government of Mysore submitted a memorandum to the Tariff Board urging for immediate and adequate protection to the Iron Industry.

The position of the Mysore Iron Works and its future prospects were examined in detail by the Tariff Board in 1928 and 1929 in connection with their enquiry on the removal of revenue duty on Pig Iron. The Board then formed the opinion that "the Works are well equipped and manufactured is carried on entirely under Indian management under conditions which may be regarded as reasonably efficient. The manufacture of pig iron has been going on since 1923 and it is only recently that anything like a full output has been reached. We have examined the costs submitted to us by the Mysore Iron Works and having regard to the peculiar conditions of manufacture, we are satisfied that on the whole they may be consided economical. "There is room for hope that in course of time they will be reduced below their present level."

CHANGES IN PLANT

During the four years that have elapsed since this report was written, there have been many changes in the Plant, the operations and the situation in the wood distillation and iron industries which have affected the financial results of the Works. The Pipe Foundry has been enlarged and manufacture of pipes has been undertaken on a large scale. During the last two years, about 18,000 tons of pipes varying from 3" to 30" in diameter have been produced. Additional machines have been installed in the Machine shop and the General Foundry to enable the Works to take up outside engineering orders.

The market for pipes has been disturbed by competition from Japan.

Detailed proposals for the addition of a Steel Plant in the Works were formulated and have already been approved by the Government of Mysore, but further action has been suspended as the time for which protection was granted by the Government of India is about to expire and the question would form the subject of the present enquiry.

ONLY PLANT IN INDIA

The memorandum submitted by the Government of Mysore to the Tariff Board, I understand, urge that any scheme adopted as a result of the recommendations of the present enquiry by the Tariff Board, should be for a substantially long period, so that further developments may be undertaken without any fear of protection being withdrawn or reduced before the operations have been fully standardized. The Mysore Iron Works is the only Charcoal, Iron and Wood distillation Plant in India and probably the largest in the British Empire and its products especially Acetate of Lime form an essential requisite of national defence. It forms a very valuable asset in times of war, not only in India, but for the whole of the British Empire. The national importance of the Iron Works from this point of view has been already recognised by the Tariff Board (Vide p.p 10 and 11 of the report of Indian Tariff Board on the removal of the revenue duty).

PLEA FOR SPECIAL BOUNTY

The Mysore Iron Works has already incurred considerable losses in maintaining the work of national importance owing to unprecenented depression and it is urged that this special aspect should be taken into consideration and special bounty sanctioned for at least a period of 10 years by which time the Plant will have been expanded in all possible ways.

The Government also urge, I learn, the removal of duty on machinery

It is urged that in order to allow for full development without anxiety, the protective measures should be effective for a period of 20 years.

To guard against further fall in import prices, the executive Government, it is urged may take power to raise or lower the duties so as to maintain the level to which the C.I.F. prices should be raised in order to afford adequate protection

If the duties to be recommended by the Tariff Board are less than those required by the Mysore Iron Works or any other new undertaking, it is suggested that they may be supplemented by adequate bounties.

SHARE BAZAR CRISIS AND AFTER

Present Decision Of Board Encourages Unhealthy Speculation

(By Our Commercial Editor).

The Board of Directors of the Bombay Stock Exchange has decided to suspend until further notice. forward and cash business in those shares which are at present in the official forward list. Business on cash in shares which are not on the forward list and cash as well as forward trading securities will continue. Thus on Diwali day Moorat business will be a trivial affair.

The suspension of trading upto now was advisable owing to fears of serious consequences at the settlement, but now the clearing has passed off with three failures. Thus there seems to be no reason why business in shares other than the Currimbhoy Mills Group should remain suspended.

It is a known fact the difficulty was with Mills and not with the Share Bazar. There was no bear raid except some short sales in moderate quantities. As a matter of fact the present trouble is not the creation of Share Bazar, but it was an outsides which, required careful handling of the situation. It is to the credit of the Board that by its timely action the whole situation was saved from a serious crisis.

The latest resolution passed by the Board of suspending business indefinitely is likely to create a serious situation. If the trouble is with the Currimbhoy Mills Group. trading in this section can remain closed, but there is no trouble with whole forward list. If business in all shares on the forward list is to remain suspended, it amounts to this, that there is something materially wrong with the Share Bazar. The Board has statements of open business of each member and it is easy to find out whether there exists extensive speculative interest.

Cash business continues in the Currimbhoy, Kastoorchand and Oosmanshahi Mills, which goes to prove that there is considerable unhealthy speculative business in other mills shares of the same group. Thus the present decision of the Board virtually helps the unhealthy speculation.

It is true that the Board has to look after general stability of the Stock Exchange. but over and above this, the Board owes a great deal to the general investing public, on whose support and goodwill the Stock Exchange flourishes.

It is easy to understand that by throwing open the market for forward business, there may be some Bear pressure or nervous liquidation, which may again create an undesirable situation. This may only be possible in the Currimbhoy Mills Group, but there are many other shares commanding sound position. Thus, the present ruling of the Board does harm to well managed and interest giving concerns.

Total suspension of business does harm to the Stock Exchange. Investors are buying and selling shares because they always know that there is continuous market where they will be able to convert their holdings of actual scrips in cash within a reasonable time. This confidence has created the Stock Exchange and if the interests of the bona-fide dealers are neglected, naturally they will lose confidence. To protect unhealthy speculation, bonafide business is penalised. It is alright for the Board to suspend forward business and ask members to refrain from any business. The holder of an actual share is a free man to sell out his share at any price he deems best. Total suspension of business in shares on the forward list is an encroachment upon the right of a bonafide investor and he cannot wait indefinitely to sell out his holdings because a third party had entered into a mad reckless speculation.

The Board has done its best to save the market from crisis in the past and no doubt the present situation will pass off. There have been heavy drops in share prices in 1896, 1900, 1904, 1913, 1914, 1922, 1925, 1927 and 1929 and the Share Bazar survived all such crisis. However it will be found that there were repeated crises in the last decade and if the Board desires to avert them they should not accommodate gamblers.

It has become a regular fashion now on the local Stock Exchange to do tejimandi business. The Board has no power to check these wagering contracts and those who are in difficulty have no right to expect any help from the Board at the risk and expense of bonafide investors. It will be better if the Board leaves the dogs to fight among themselves and suffer the consequences. Intervention of the Board is encouraging hazardous speculation which often threatens the stability of the Exchange. It is time for the Board to pick up courage and restore gradually at least cash business in shares except of the Currimbhoy Mills Group which are at present on the forward list.

RAW COTTON OUTLOOK

Sell Broach Cotton Against Purchases Of Liverpool And New York

Distress Sales At Low Rates In Bombay

Bombay, Oct. 12.

Messrs. Langley and Co. have issued he following weekly cotton market report:—

A week of poor markets ends with values 43 points lower. The main item of interest has been the third Bureau Report issued on the 9th instant, which estimated the crop at 12,885,000 bales an increase of 471,000 bales over the Report of September 8th. Weak markets had ruled during the two or three days prior to the issue of the estimate, on long liquidation and freer offerings from the South, so that the increase in the crop had little or no effect on values. A small advance was recorded which was more than lost the next day. The figure itself was without particular significance as for some time conservative opinions have indicated that the final yield would be something around 13 million bales, but the effect on the general sentiment has been unfavourable'

RAISING COTTON PRICES.

It is now reported that President Roosevelt has confirmed the formation of a Commodity Credit Corporation, the primary duty of which is to raise cotton prices. It is understood that this Corporation will be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and guaranteed by Government and will advance farmers money on cotton at the rate of 10 cents per lb. for Low Middling 7/8 in return for a guarantee from them that they will cut their cotton acreage in 1934 by 40 per cent—the Government's idea being for a total acreage next season of 25 million acres.

A NEW DRIVE.

It is also announced that a "drive" will be undertaken by the Administration within the next fortnight in pursuance of their plans for next season's acreage reduction and we assume that their cash advances of 10 cents will commence when the "drive" starts. To date this scheme has been without effect on values as a great deal of scepticism prevails as to its real value. In one of our recent reports we made mention of this plan and expressed doubts as to its practicability. We still remain sceptical as to its lasting value but we think its early application, backed by wholesale cash advances, would result in an intensification of the holding movement with a resultant sharp upturn in prices. With a beneficient Governfent prepared to advance 10 cents on Low Middling 7/8", we see no reason why the farmers should sell cheaper elsewhere. On the basis of 10 cents for Low Middling 7/8" the current contracts are worth over 11 cents as the basis of them is of course Middling. Whether or no this plan will be put into effect remains to be seen, but if it is, then in our view the immediate effect will be a rise in prices.

EXCHANGE STABILISATION.

There is no fresh news from Washington of any startling nature. The War Debts conversations have opened to an accompaniment of the usual platitudes and we still feel that these will be bargained against exchange advantages to America. The steady Cross Rate of the last week would seem to indicate Governmental control and it is to be hoped, for the benefit of the world, that some form of stabilisation is within sight.

With the American crop movement nearing its peak and values for January in New York under 9-1/2 cents a lb., we think the constructive side offers reasonable chance of profit and recommend conservative purchases in New York and Liverpool around present levels with the idea of increasing holdings should the market ease further.

NERVOUSNESS PREVAILS.

Locally, our market has been very largely under the influence of the nervousness prevailing in financial circles and in our own and the stock markets. The ramifications of the difficulties of a large mill group have extended in all directions and commitments are being reduced wherever this is possible. To a very large extent we consider the flood of rumours and counter-rumours exaggerated and without foundation

A feature of the week has been the steady buying on Japanese account and in total a considerable quantity of contracts has been taken out of the market. News from Simla of the Textile discussions is very meagre and the progress recorded seems small. We think many weeks must pass before the position there is clarified.

The demand on the spot continues very disappointing and the export enquiry is restricted to a retail demand from Europe and the local mills.

The shadow of the new crop is responsible for a small weakening in the basis and to this have also contributed a few distress sales at low rates.

SILVER.

Fluctuations in prices have been slightly wider during the past week, but the market has shown a fairly steady tone. Continental sales were on a moderate scale, but there has been a fair amount of re-selling by the Indian Bazaars and China. China has also bought, but the principal buying was on American account although the uncertainty of the dollar exchange tended to restrict operations with New York.

No wide variation from the present level is anticipated in the near future.

How Powers View German Decision

Door To New Armaments Race Opened, Says French Press

LONDON, Oct. 14.

No official comment is available in Losdon on Germany's withdrawal from the Disarmament Conference and the movements of Sir John Simon have not yet been settled. He will probably remain in Geneva until after the meeting of the Disarmament Commission fixed for Monday. He is telephoning to Mr. MacDonald at Chequers to-night from Geneva.

Mr. Henderson is conferring with the representatives of major Powers at Geneva to-morrow.

The continuance of the Disarmament Conference is generally favoured but many advocate its adjournment.

ANOTHER BLUNDER.

"Germany has committed another blunder like wartime blunders and seems to be completely unable to apprehend the psychology by the rest of the world," said Little Entente spokesman.

French Government quarters regard the situation as grave but their attitude is described as calm and firm. They are wondering whether Germany is merely bluffing to get further concessions or has definitely slammed the door on peace and reconciliation.

NEW ARMAMENTS RACE.

The French Press says that Germany has torn off her mask, trampled underfoot 14 years work for the organisation of peace and opened the door to new armaments race.

"Le Temps" says: "More than ever, world is going to live dangerously."

DALADIER MAY RESIGN.

The French Government itself may be jeopardised as financial measures adopted by the Cabinet this morning are by no means sure of adoption in which case M. Daladier has declared he will resign. Germany's move will give new weapon to the Opposition who have never approved of M. Boncour's disarmamest policy.

MUSSOLINI RETICENT.

ROME.—Sgr. Mussolini maintains complete silence but officials here frankly admit that they are non-plussed. They say that it would be difficult to argue that Germany's action does not violate the Four Power Pact.

BUT U. S. TO GO ON.

WASHINGTON.—"Germany's action impedes the movement of Disarmament," declared Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, and added: "The United States Government are seriously disappointed and deeply regretful that team work which the United States fostered has been shattered by Germans. But the United States will continue their efforts."—Reuter's Special

"GERMANY'S PRESENT RULERS' CONDUCT"

"Observer" Comments On Disarmament Crisis

LONDON, Oct. 15.

The "Observer" points out that probationary condition on which alone other powers could restore to Germany, equality of status in armaments has been dictated by the conduct of Germany's present rulers.

If the full disarmament conference meets to-morrow, it will have to decide at once between tactical alternatives to the disarmament convention exclusive of Germany and abandonment of the whole project. Alternatives are merely formal and practical results of either will be the same. —A. P.

BRING HER BACK TO HER SENSES

"Sunday Times" On Germany's "Major Blunder"

LONDON, Oct. 15.

Germany's bombshell at Geneva is generally summed up in Sunday newspapers as serious blow to the cause of world peace and as creating new European crisis, the consequences of which are difficult to foresee.

"The Sunday Times" describs Germany's decision as one of the major blunders in history and defiance to the world.

The Paper says that Germany by her own act has put herself colossally in the wrong. All the civilised world will be against her action whether inside or outside the League. Although the situation is perilous it is by no means hopeless. First, wise counsel is to do nothing precipitate and secondly to concert every possible means to bring Germany back to her senses.—A.P.

NAZI LEADER'S ASTUTE MOVE

Expects Overwhelming Majority In General Elections

BERLIN, Oct. 14.

As soon as the German Cabinet learned the nature of Sir J. Simon's speech at the Disarmament Conference ministers decided to quit the League and Herr Hitler immediately conferred with President Hindenburg obtaining president's assent to the dissolution.

The decision to appeal to the electorate is the astute move, which is bound to give Herr Hitler an overwhelming majority.

Electors will simply be asked to record whether they wish election of Nadi candidates.

No other parties will be permitted.

Baron Von Neurath has telegraphed to Mr. Henderson declaring that it is definitely established that the Disarmament Conference will not fulfil the sole task of carrying out general disarmament. The collapse of the Conference, he says, is solely due to the unwillingness of the highly armed states to fulfil their signed promise to disarm. Putting into effect of Germany's admitted claim to equality is thereby rendered impossible and conditions on which the German Government at the beginning of the year declared its readiness to resume the work of the Conference have lapsed and therefore Germany is compelled to leave Disarmament Conference.—Reuter's Special.

WHY GERMANY "SHEATHED SWORD"

Hitler's Broadcast To All Stations

BERLIN, October 14.

Broadcasting to all stations Herr Hitler reviewed the events since the armistice of 1918 when "trusting to Wilson's fourteen points Germans sheathed their sword."

He said, if the world in the following months had extended hand in a fair manner to the collapsed nations, humanity would have been spared much suffering. Germany tried very hard to heal the wounds of her opponents and when by Peace Treaty Germany destroyed her weapons in order to facilitate the world disarmament, nations believed it was the beginning of triumph of commonsense. Germany had the right to expect the rest of the world to fulfil their promises.

Unfortunately, political leadership of nations was in the hands of men rooted in the spirit of victor states. It was completely forgotten that restoration of the world could not be guaranteed by the slave work of a violated nation but by trustful co-operation of all and by overcoming war psychosis.

All combatants were convinced of their guiltlessness for war. Therefore, it was the more necessary that permanent enmity should not arise from such conviction and memories of catastrophe should not be artificially reserved.—Reuter.

'NO FORCING OF SEPARATION ON US'

Dr. Maw's Political Conference Demand

"DISGRACEFUL TO MUSLIMS"

Status Of Fair Sex Under So-called Customary Law In Frontier

"SHARIAT" MUST PREVAIL

Independent Party Leader In Council Gives Notice Of Motion

PESHAWAR, Oct. 12. (By Mail).

Malik Khuda Bakhsh Khan, leader of the Independent Party in the Legislative Council, has given notice of his intention to move during the forthcoming session of the Legislative Council a Bill to make provision for the application of Muslim Personal Law (Shariat) in North-West Frontier Province.

What Malik Khuda Bakhsh Khan seeks to bring about is that in questions regarding succession, special property of females, betrothal, marriage, divorce, dowry, adoption, guardianship, minority, bastardy, family relations, will, legacies, gifts or any religious usage or institution including Waqf (Trust and trust property), the rule of desion shall be the Muslim person law (Shariat) in cases where the parties are Muslims.

NEED FOR MEASURE.

Explaining the need for such a measure Malik Khuda Bakhsh says that for several years past it has been the cherished desire of the Muslims of the N. W. F. P. that Customary Law would in no case take the place of the Muslim personal law. The matter has been repeatedly agitated in the press as well as in the platform. The Provincial Jamiatul Ulema has from time to time passed emphatic and decisive resolutions on the subject and invited the attention of all concerned to the urgent necessity of introducing a measure in the Council to this effect.

MISNOMER.

Customary Law is a misnomer inasmuch as it has not any sound basis to stand upon and is very much liable to frequent changes and cannot be expected to attain at any time in the future that certainty and definiteness which must be the characteristic of all law.

The status of the fair sex under the so-called Customary Law is simply disgraceful, while the introduction of Muslim personal law will automatically raise it to the position to which it is naturally entitled.

In addition to this the present measure, if enacted, would have very salutary effect on society because it would ensure certainty and definiteness in their mutual rights and obligations.

Muslim personal law (Shariat) exists in the form of a veritable code and is too well-known to admit of any doubt or to entail any great labour in the shape of research which is the chief feature of Customary law.—A.P.

Mrs. Motilal Nehru's condition, it is understood, continues to give cause to great anxiety. She passed a restless night.—A. P.

Mahasabha's New Champion

Dr. Mukherji Raises Scare Of "Congress Rocks" And Warns Hindus

AJMER, Oct. 14.

The 15th Hindu Maha Sabha session began to-day at 12-30 before a large gathering including ladies and amidst scenes of great enthusiasm and shouts of "Hindu Dharma ki jai".

Some persons tried to create a disturbance protesting against the visitors fee of annas eight and demanding free entrance. The Secretary of the Reception Committee refused to comply with their request but Bhai Parmanand intervened and recommended free admittance, with the result that the pandal was filled to its capacity.

WELCOME TO DELEGATES.

After welcoming the delegates and visitors the Chairman of the Reception Committee said in Hindi that Hindus were passing through a critical time and must unite if they wanted to exist as a community. This conference, he continued, was to tackle the most important problems affecting the existence of Hindus and none could accordingly guide them better then Bhai Parmanand.

AWARD ATTACKED.

Thereafter Dr. Radhamohan Mukherjee (Bengal) proposed Bhai Parmanand to be the President. He spoke in English. In the course of his speech he attacked the Communal Award and said that Hindus had fallen on evil days.

"HINDU CASE SPOILED."

Dr. Mukherjee attacked Hindu Round Table Delegates saying that they had spoiled the Hindu case by quarreling amongst themselves. He cosdemned communalism explaining that it was against Hindu religion but pointed out that they must oppose when other communities demanded unjust advantages.

By way of proof he quoted the percentages of Muslim population and the seats demanded by them.

Proceeding he paid a glowing tribute to Bhai Parmanand saying that Bhai Parmanand had made tremendous sacrifices for Hinduism and none could consequently be fitter than he was to lead Hindus at this critical juncture when their very existence was threatened. He attacked the Congress policy and said that the present pitiable plight of Hindus was due to the confusion of issues by Congress leaders. He added that if Hindus persisted in following the Congress they would be dashing their heads against the rocks.

APPEAL TO CONGRESS.

Concluding Dr. Mukherjee appealed to the Congress to reconsider the whole problem and come to some decision. The proposals was seconded and supported by delegates from all over the country.

Bhai Parmanand began his presidential address in Hindi at 2-30 p.m. and finished his address about 5 p.m. (address appeared in our yesterday's issue).
